Press Release

Thompson & Morgan's new Tree Lily™ range - customers can win £500

Following years of rigorous breeding and selection of these popular flowers, Thompson & Morgan is delighted to offer home gardeners three amazingly easy-to-grow tree lilies™. All can reach the dizzy heights of 2-2.4m (6-8ft) in the first year from planting.

The tree lily™ varieties include Manisa and Nymph, which are oriental x trumpet hybrids and Sartre, which is an oriental variety. These towering trees each produce sturdy, 5cm (2in) thick, self-supporting stems, becoming taller, wider and more floriferous over the years.

The result is a wonderful forest of up to 30, super-sized 20cm (8in), colourful blooms, spreading their delightful perfume around the garden.

Uniquely, many offshoots are thrown from just one tree lily™ bulb. In time the foliage, which remains lush throughout the flowering season of July to September, takes on an attractive shrub-like appearance – a nice alternative to Leylandii.

The easy-to-grow tree lily™ bulbs need to be planted 20cm (8in) deep in a sunny or part-shaded spot at the back of the border, against walls and fences, or in large pots for the patio and left to look after themselves. Prices start at £8.99 for 3 top-size bulbs; a collection of 9 bulbs (3 varieties) is £17.98, giving a saving of £8.99!

As they are so easy to grow, Thompson & Morgan is running a competition open to everyone to see who can grow the best display of tree lilies™. The winner will receive £500 in Thompson & Morgan vouchers and runners-up will each receive £50 in Thompson & Morgan vouchers if their image is selected for use in the catalogue.

Entrants should e-mail photograph images, preferably with themselves included in the picture, to: Photo Competitions, Thompson & Morgan (UK) Ltd, Poplar Lane, Ipswich, Suffolk IP8 3BU, England, or e-mail to competitions@thompson-morgan.com
